

Wakále Amotí

Invocation By decree of Kwaji:Yä Knögé, Wakále Amotí stands as the fellowship of sovereign practices — a living covenant of guardianship, healing, household ecology, food sovereignty, cultural transmission, and rites of passage. Each module is a pillar woven into the Nation's ceremonial framework, guiding people toward resilience, continuity, and ancestral restoration.

Banarema Hiamá – The Sister Sanctuary

A sacred refuge for women's councils, healing, and wisdom transmission. Guided by the Hiamá Ahíaro, Banarema Hiamá aligns with lunar cycles and sustains herbal medicine, ritual baths, eco-living, and intergenerational teaching. Charter Duties: Guardianship of admission, stewardship of ceremony, transmission of wisdom, healing and nurturing, continuity and sovereignty.

Tawari Hiamá – The Brother Sanctuary

A consecrated refuge for men's councils, mentorship, and guardianship training. Guided by the Hiamá Tawari, this sanctuary aligns with solar cycles and sustains resilience practices, ritual oaths, eco-living, and intergenerational teaching. Charter Duties: Guardianship of admission, stewardship of ceremony, transmission of wisdom, mentorship, continuity and sovereignty.

Tawari Yáro – Self-Defence & Tactical Practices

Guardianship through discipline, resilience, and tactical skill. Tawari Yáro blends martial arts, blade and firearm safety, tactical awareness, and ceremonial guardianship. Outcomes: Personal empowerment, community resilience, cultural continuity, ceremonial depth.

Abunuhi Yáro – Household Crafts & Incense

Reviving ancestral household ecology through basket weaving, pottery, and incense crafting. Products: Eco-baskets, incense holders, food containers, eco-pottery vessels, herbal incense blends. Ceremonial Use: Household blessing, cleansing rituals, continuity of ancestral smoke traditions.

Abunuhi Yáro – Traditional Lifestyle Practices

Daily ancestral practices for cleansing and care. Activities: Natural detergents, skin oils, hair food, ceremonial cleansing with roots and stones. Outcome: Household resilience and ecological sovereignty.

Hiaro Yámoni – Edenic Food & Chinampa Integration

Food sovereignty rooted in water-land farming traditions. Activities: Mini chinampa builds, planting rituals, Edenic cooking workshops. Outcome: Ecological awareness, regenerative farming inspiration, cultural food continuity.

Tawari Eden – Eco-Village & Resilience Systems

A pillar of sovereign living, teaching eco-village design and resilience systems. Activities: Gravity-fed ponds, solar cooking, bamboo housing prototypes. Outcome: Resilient households and villages aligned with ecological balance and sovereignty.

Yäro Amotí – Arts & Cultural Transmission

Preserving and transmitting Indigenous arts, music, and language. Activities: Drum-making, song circles, glyph painting, language workshops. Outcome: Cultural restoration through creative expression and intergenerational teaching.

Tawari Yámoni – Rites of Passage for Young Adults

The sacred transition from youth to adulthood. Structure: Apprenticeship, ceremonial trials, initiation rituals, community recognition. Outcome: Empowered guardianship, sovereign identity, cultural continuity, integration into councils and sanctuaries.
